Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, March 20, 2013 – 10:00 a.m.

Let your heart exude its fragrances; they are the ones that we have infused in you in this very special relationship. Many hearts also benefit from them when these messages are received with love and gratitude towards the Masters, the initiators of this mystical epic. A time will come when light will dawn in everyone, and our brothers and sisters will then benefit even more from our teachings in their various forms.

Evolution on this Earth takes place very slowly; many tendencies have to be overcome, and this is not easily done. The practice helps greatly in this regard. Nothing is simple; humanity is struggling in the pervading heaviness. True devotees find within themselves the sacred refuge, where the best is accomplished once they truly become aware of the potential that dwells in them. An approach like the one we offer helps in making this discovery; it is the most beautiful jewel in one's life when the subtle being finally feels the effects of grace within. Why not say and repeat what motivates seekers – they sense their inner potential and they act with a view to fully discover it.

Love, at this level, is the magic key; it opens the sacred door hiding this treasure. The Master, for his part, has the power to activate this process that liberates one from human heaviness. As a rule, everything progresses slowly, but exceptions also occur in which all obstacles are overcome at once. Such a blessing leaves the one who receives it overwhelmed with gratitude and joy. The effect of this joy is unique. Blessed are those who feel it – efforts really do bear fruit.

Blessed are those who advance in the resulting trust, love and serenity. This path is promising and safe; we see to it. May all be enlightened and strengthened in this quest for the Divine; they have our blessings.
