Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, March 21, 2013 — 10:00 a.m.

Your strength, your light, your divine guide is inside you —and this power allows you to advance on this long journey through which messages are accumulating for the benefit of our Mission. Your Master likes this heavenly manna; it inspires him as it emanates from our united hearts which are fully attending to him. We carry him in our own manner on this Earthly journey — one that is challenging for him at this current stage in his life. Every day we are by his side, touched by his thoughts and the unfailing call of his heart. We carry him in our hearts and our love helps him every day. A living Master requires constant support and our attention that is full of love towards him, even more so after so many years. He is the highly blessed and beloved son. Carried by the cocoon of heavenly love, he is working wonders and we are overjoyed by that. His long journey has lent to our Mission the necessary stature to generate the support that is conducive to its future expansion.

"The Sahaj Marg edifice is well established in the world of men, and this will be further consolidated in the future. Living Masters have to hold that role, for which they possess powers whose magnitude cannot be humanly assessed, but which generate highly significant results.

"In that, it is the divine will that manifests itself when a noble goal like this one must be achieved. Our faithful abhyasis have that privilege. Do they realise what they are granted! The human being has a limited view of such phenomena, but his spiritual being urges him to act in the right direction when a profound and intense call is felt in him.

"Happy are the beings who are eager to act towards this noble purpose of the elevation of the soul and of the ultimate to be reached here below. Blessings to all our brothers and sisters who are advancing with trust and in surrender to the higher power — manifested in our way by special grace in the person of the incarnate Master."
