Whispers from The Brighter World

My dearest son,

"Every birthday anniversary is a milestone in our Mission, a step forward. You have given everything to this Mission and it is very grateful to you. Physical sufferings are inevitable for all; we went through the same. Not only do they uplift the being, but they are a necessary investment. All this cannot be easily understood by our abhyasis; history has recorded precedents in this area. The subtle being is in no way affected by these tests, as far as you are concerned. You have reached the apogee, the state of splendour on all levels of consciousness, and your action in this world is by no means diminished. It is unprecedented considering the power it exhibits. Are our brothers and sisters really aware of their good fortune? They have a living Master who is the custodian of our respective powers and endowed with a remarkable personality.

"None of them should be worried — all will continue. When our great son joins us, all will continue as before. Everything is in place for that. His successor will be able to face up to things, and he will always be inspired by the alliance of Masters, whose power cannot be assessed humanly. The Master's love never fails. It remains rooted in the heart of true aspirants who follow him and who will always put their trust in him. The Mission continues to expand. We are all travellers on Earth, but the love of all of us is always alive and it operates in you, believe me.

Whispers from The Brighter World

"Trust your Master as well as all those who watch over your journey and map out your special path where, little by little, you find your bearings and thrive spiritually, even if this does not easily lend itself to great displays.

"Be happy and fulfilled in your heart on this very special day throughout which the waves of our love are focused on this beautiful Sahaj Marg Mission. It will remain over time a very far-reaching movement that will greatly benefit all.

"I wish a happy birthday celebration to my dear great son and to all of you who love, respect and support him in this difficult time for him.

"The best to all from the united Masters — now and forever."
