Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, April 30, 2013 — 10:00 a.m.

This very special day has come; through it, the divine power manifests itself in all its amplitude. Over time, the Mission has been able to receive acclaim. In the future, it will continue to hold many resources and will not fail. Beings entirely devoted to its cause will put forth their best to assist it in its progress and expansion on all levels. We are happy to see the growing impact of this practice in all its simplicity. Its action is unequalled; it is in line with the current times and does not require hours of rituals. Only the total commitment of the heart, supported by a non-strenuous but regular practice, elevates the spiritual heart to its highest destiny. All is well and we are happy, especially on this day, to witness the extent of its action.

"Long live this unique way of the heart — it will always guide its fervent practitioners.
"May all be blessed and strengthened, especially on this very special day."
