My Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, May 18, 2013 — 10:00 a.m.

Regain serenity — it makes the contact easier and enables these exchanges between our hearts. There lies the essential condition. Transcend the turbulence of this world, as it is all nothing. Only this shared love matters; it touches sensitive hearts and leads them in our wake. Humanity is mired in the miasma of materiality, humans are degrading themselves and they no longer respect what is essential — this is distressing. Let us not be sanctimonious. We find the situation unfortunate, but history must go through this sad state of affairs before making a new start in another direction.

"Major changes will occur on the Earth and humans will have to rebuild themselves in a different way, one that is more satisfactory for their own evolution. A day will come when they will become aware of this fact. This is how it goes."

Babuji Maharaj