My Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, May 23, 2013 — 10:00 a.m.

Has our discourse evolved? In appearance, no, but in actuality it has changed. Some of our brothers and sisters can sense the vibratory difference; it does not escape them. They read the messages more inwardly, more in tune with our energies, and then, beyond a superficial reading, they can get a sense of the richness of their content. Time does its work; everything is falling into place for the future, when evolution will be the characteristic feature of life cycles to come. We are preparing our brothers and sisters. It is up to each one to realise it and to act accordingly for their individual journey.

"May all our aspirants be enlightened and strengthened."

Babuji Maharaj