Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, July 22, 2013 — 7:00 p.m.

My dear great son,

"Your birth anniversary is being prepared around you and in the hearts. Wherever they are, they receive. When love connects them to your heart, osmosis occurs and distance cannot change this — distances cannot stop such a transmission. It inevitably reaches its target and this perfect union of hearts is established anywhere in the world. There lies the mystery of divine love: it knows no boundary, no limit restrains it, it goes where it is called, and it nourishes the heart of the aspirant. This is repeated ad infinitum, and so has it always been. You have come such a long way here below, and in the space where your aura is shining, it dazzles our hearts. We are moved by your trials, but we all here rejoice to see you adorned with so much grace.

"May this birth anniversary make you happy and fulfil you in every way. Beyond physical challenges lies the divine being who aspires to complete beauty, that which makes you a very high level Master supported by our love in all its expression. Years pass by, and this ritual is repeated every year. Our love for you grows, as does your power to serve this beautiful Sahaj Marg Mission. It will leave its mark over time, and you will leave your mark on our Mission, in which your action has generated the best for it as well as for all our abhyasis. Wherever they are in the world, they benefit from this wonder granted to the current time, as well as to the future when this spiritual path will illuminate the world.

"To you, the best emanating from our hearts. You know how much we love you, but here below it is important to emphasise it. Dearly beloved great son, we all carry you with the greatest of love. We are very attentive to your person, much more than it seems; we are at your side constantly. Receive all our love, especially on this highly blessed day when the Divine authorities lean towards you. You are very much loved, believe me.

"Very happy birthday!"
