My Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, August 10, 2013 — 10:00 a.m.

Divest yourself of all that is useless, of these human turbulences that are inevitable, even on a spiritual path. We do not have a magic wand to change the behaviour of our aspirants. This is unfortunate, but true; we cannot act on all levels. The character that many of them have remains difficult to control. Only spiritual development can help in this matter, allowing the aspirant, over time, to transcend his own tendencies. Nobody is perfect. If it were otherwise, it would be common knowledge. All Great Beings who have left their mark on this world have had to struggle with some aspects of their personality.

"It is beautiful and comforting to witness a soul opening up to reality; it is like a flower blooming under the rays of sunshine bringing it to fullness. Following a spiritual path where real work is done at all levels is an opportunity to be seized in one's lifetime. To varying degrees, time is running out for everyone, but the allotted time deserves the utmost consideration and a sufficient effort to achieve what is possible for each. The longing of the soul determines one's behaviour, the need to move forward towards the conquest of the sovereign spirit. With effort and by the grace of the living Master, each well-informed and persevering aspirant can achieve the best. This cannot be assessed in human terms, and that is good. Everyone's treasure remains hidden from the eyes of others who have no awareness of those values.

"Blessings to all."

Babuji Maharaj