My Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, August 14, 2013 — 10:00 a.m.

These messages are, and will remain, the sole and true expression of our united hearts. It will take time for all aspirants to discover and assimilate the thousands of messages accumulated so far. May all enjoy them without reservation and advance in the appropriate direction. Everything is being done in our way to provide the broadest possible variety of elements capable of promoting the progress of each one.

"Sahaj Marg is growing, and so is the egregore it represents. The scope of Sahaj Marg goes well beyond the material world, and this is a major asset. God's ways have many resources and manifestations at different levels of consciousness. Humans benefit from these messages, but they are not the only ones to benefit — we will not go further into this matter. Humanity has priority in benefitting from them. Such is the objective, but nothing is limited to this world, especially when a way like ours is expanding its action more and more — imperceptibly yet surely. That which is good for humans constitutes an important asset; tough times ahead will see a return to true values. Humans will become aware of the transience of things, of the extent to which all that is material can be illusory.

"Everything is counted: time, actions, and even thoughts if they are not right. It is up to each one to do what is necessary to truly move forward and make the most of the work being done in a spiritual way like this.

"The best to all, under our constant blessings."

Babuji Maharaj