Saturday, July 17, 1999 - 10:00 a.m.

It would be despairing to believe that a great number of abhyasis couldn't, one day, benefit from these messages. If their spiritual work does not open them to these eternal truths, what are things coming to? This openness will take place slowly; nothing should be done hastily as far as their publication is concerned. You will know when it's time to do so. It is necessary to let time do its work. The same applies for all things.

"Yesterday, we have talked about the situation of this ashram of Montpellier. It will recover gradually. We let certain negative aspects, still hindering it currently, be swept away. Help us by visualizing it as luminous, sought-after and very organized like a hive. Be like worker bees that will make of this place what we have been expecting it to be since its inception. Nothing should be rushed, but initiatives should be designed to give it a new lease of life. Visualize its salutary expansion so that it can attract abhyasis from neighbouring regions, by creating conducive situations. Some of them feel isolated, and they will appreciate it. It is not like Augerans; therefore, it must serve another purpose, in a different way. Find, and be inventive.

"You have also a rather prolific Sahaj Marg literature, which can be useful.

"Meditate together; meditate much, particularly in these times when serious risks can shatter your lives. Become torches that illuminate the world."

Babuji