Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, September 3, 2013 – 10:00 a.m.

The deeper meaning of life is not revealed to humans. However thorough their search may be, it cannot rise to the most subtle level of divine manifestation. Humans must be content with what they can understand, whatever their investigative capabilities may be in this field. Approaching what is essential in the matter of spirituality is already an important step that allows humans to develop themselves, in the true sense of evolution. Many stages are to be crossed before one catches the slightest glimpse of this higher power. Openness of heart, surrender and generosity in this quest lead to the desired state. Nothing is in vain; the heart of humans is the central axis of their elevation in its vibratory and subtle aspect, to the point of escaping current scientific knowledge. This kind of configuration is remarkably subtle. The real capabilities of the human being will be affirmed one day here below, after a great step has been made at the level of understanding. That time will come. We are all working towards it, and each of our aspirants, by complying with our teachings, contributes to this general transformation. All of us here yearn for this, as do many of our convinced and truly committed abhyasis.

May all fervently involve themselves; such is the greatest wish for this present humanity which is in distress on many levels. May the best be accomplished – there lies the objective to be achieved, under our blessings.
