Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, September 18, 2013 – 10:00 a.m.

Your heart is shining – that is the most beautiful adornment on this special day when your soul is longing only for this blessed contact. May all our aspirants be touched more and more by these messages emanating from the Divine.

A spiritual guide relies on a teaching entrusted to him, which he then passes on. It has always been so. Even if the means of dissemination are different, the teachings have always been captured in this way. Times change, the means of communication may differ, and yet with respect to this one, the source remains unaltered throughout the centuries. Why would it change? When such a ritual is divinely inspired, it benefits from well-established laws on or about the principle. At the dawn of this new era it is appropriate to provide herein some new elements capable of illuminating the path in a different way. Many human beings are opening up to knowledge. The important thing is to touch hearts, to foster in them an understanding of phenomena and to encourage them to interiorise themselves, to capture the subtlety of our teaching and to perceive the transmission of the divine energy that characterises it. Thus is accomplished that which must be. The time has come to move forward by divesting oneself of what is useless.

May all be carried and enlightened according to their innermost longing. Our ceaseless action is geared towards this.
