My Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, September 19, 2013 — 10:00 a.m.

Love, the love we have referred to so many times, is universal. All great beings and great saints have fed on this special energy capable of transforming the most humble beings into devotees of the Master they revere. This kind of energy is the purest, the most subtle, and one that can satisfy the soul. When the call is strong, the answer inevitably comes, changing one's life and giving it a different direction. The power of such love has no limits. We are emphasising this point once again, since without that love none of these messages would have existed. They are the fruit of this special force that brings life to them. They are inspired and written in the same stream of delightful energy that is sure to touch hearts deeply when they are able to perceive this.

"Doesn't everything have its raison d'être? Time lends to events their rightful place. What may seem inconsequential today will become an obvious and important fact tomorrow, definitively leaving its mark on time. Our beautiful path of Sahaj Marg is following its course, and its many advantages benefit our abhyasis, who need an effective means to progress. The spiritual Master is working for that. The aura of this Mission is growing, and that growth is in line with present times, which are decisive for the future. Blessed are the beings involved in this endeavour, as they are saving valuable time. The strength of this way is increasing, and all contribute to it by their commitment to following their divine Master."

Babuji Maharaj