Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, September 27, 2013 – 10:00 a.m.

Great and beautiful opportunities are emerging for the Sahaj Marg Mission. The divine plans become clearer over time and suggest what the Mission will be like tomorrow. The seed is sown, and it will bloom on every continent; so must it be. The many upheavals to come will bring human beings back to a more balanced view of life, one that is based on real values. Everything will need to be reconsidered; this will not happen overnight, but it is wise to bear it in mind and not deny the possibility that change will be brought about at all levels. We will not insist any further on this vision of the future; we should rather focus totally on today. Doing the right thing is constructive. Returning to a more natural life that is more respectful of true values can only uplift humanity and enrich it – in more than one way. This world has many unknown resources; they will be revealed in due time. The major upheavals will enable humanity to make a fresh start based on real values.

Everything here below must be accepted as coming from higher powers. Whatever some people may believe, humans have very limited powers, and it takes a minimum of wisdom to realise it. A luminous path opens up to seekers, and their commitment will lead them to where they should be, depending on their ability to act for their own good. All are advancing; we are attending to it and the results often exceed our expectations.

The only purpose of these incessant repetitions is to help our abhyasis. Everything is done accordingly, and it is up to each one to be committed. Blessings.
