My Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, September 29, 2013 — 10:00 a.m.

This long journey of messages has been very productive in terms of its impact, as is evident in the many reports coming from various countries. Undoubtedly, the messages are touching hearts more and more, and their impact is just beginning. This growth will continue, and so will the expansion of our spiritual way with its unique elements. Humans are becoming refined, and this point will be confirmed in the future. Although everything moves very slowly here below, the best of this refinement is yet to come. People's consciousness is gradually opening up to a higher reality, far from fairy tales and images that were offered them, or even imposed on them, in the past. This reality must prevail little by little and free humans from the ignorance in which they have been held for so long. The principle of that reality is simpler and more acceptable. One has only to be willing to follow that path and to be earnestly committed to it. Nothing is imposed; the impulse must come from the aspirant's heart. That quest for the Divine takes place in an atmosphere of surrender and an innermost yearning to move towards the goal. It takes time and genuine commitment for that evolutionary process to operate. Everything happens in due time, and a sincere call is always heard. This effective way of the heart focuses on what is essential. Everything is accomplished in silence and in the privacy of the aspirant who is dedicated and, above all, more eager than ever to obtain the best results. There lies the goal to be reached; determination helps one to attain it. All are helped and supported in their quest; that is the way it goes."

Babuji Maharaj