Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, October 1, 2013 — 10:00 a.m.

Enjoy these moments of peace, when love wins over your heart, which is fully offered to ours. Such is its vocation, in the secrecy where the sacred round of true followers of the Mission takes place. Their numbers are great and constantly growing; it is in the order of things. That which is good for humans should not remain unknown to a suffering multitude. Suffering takes on different forms and results from behaviours that are often undesirable. We do not claim to solve everything, quite the contrary — how could we make that claim? Divine laws are what they are, and they are more easily accepted when a being opens up to the higher reality.

"All this is very subtle and cannot really be explained; true spiritual work helps one develop a more accurate understanding of life in its many manifestations. Everything has a meaning: each event, all tests — which are by and large the lot of all. No one is spared, as we have said repeatedly. The school of life has its own rationale, its own rigour, its joys and sorrows. The incarnate being must learn from everything: all pains and joys — all are necessary for each one's evolution. A spiritual journey promotes growth and helps relieve one of a karma that has multiple effects. May all our abhyasis fully realise the opportunity offered them to divest themselves of that which is useless, of a burden that can be very cumbersome and a hindrance to their spiritual progress. We are helping them as much as possible; that is how it goes."
