Whispers from The Brighter World

Great progress has been achieved with these messages that are so important to our Mission; time will lend them their rightful place. A spiritual way like ours needs a lot of time to position itself, to ensure that all its aspects are understood and demonstrated for the greatest number. This method is adapted to current times, and it will increase in strength in the future when the simplicity of its approach will become obvious to all. In view of the growth that is possible for our aspirants, it is essential to support them on the path of life. Many of them discover over time the importance of this simple but effective practice. Life on Earth is not easy for anyone; a spiritual Master is an example of this fact, showing that no one is spared. One way or another, divine laws exist, and they manifest themselves in an incarnation, according to the goal to be reached by each being who inhabits this planet.

"Likewise, each planet also has its own destiny. This law of destiny is essential in all aspects of life. Life is one and indivisible in this universe which is subjected to extremely rigorous laws. Everything is counted and planned in minutest detail, hence the comment which our abhyasis understand very well by now: 'Humans plan their lives and what does God do? He laughs!'. Enjoying every moment and wasting the least possible time in futile activities is a sign of great wisdom. Wisdom bears fruit, believe me. Most of our abhyasis are aware of this and working as best they can. We help them as much as possible, with love and understanding. To all, the best."
