Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, October 16, 2013 – 10:00 a.m.

What more can we say, more convincingly, to draw the attention of our aspirants to the importance of steadfastness in a spiritual approach like this? Every day is an opportunity for a new step, for broadening one's understanding of things through a regular practice followed with conviction.

With these writings, we hope to help all who are searching and determined to progress as much as they can. Everything here below is pointless; only what is acquired in the realm of the Spirit is rich in teaching. Isn't the elevation of the soul the noblest of conquests! In this field nothing is simple, nor can it be obtained without effort, without a true and sustained resolve. Grace is such that anything can come about more quickly than expected. Nobody really knows where they are going and what tomorrow has in store for them – there is no time to lose.

Here below everything is counted far more than humans believe. Each new incarnation is the missing link in a long chain, this unique epic in all its expressions, through which the spiritual being can accomplish wonders when guided by a Master of the highest level. Our Mission has been working in this direction for some time now, and the results are more than encouraging. Beautiful souls who have followed our path are now among us; their journey continues differently, but with very fine prospects. Their commitment to Sahaj Marg opens up a significant field of action for them, and that makes us happy. Everything has its raison d'être; the results obtained here prove it, and they motivate a sustained action. May all be supported and blessed.
