Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, October 19, 2013 – 10:00 a.m.

Relax, take a step back from the vicissitudes of life. This very special space within permits one to interiorise and unite with the inner Master. There one joins with the incarnate Master; he works in his own manner and his action bears fruit, visible or not. There lies the mystery of life, of its subtlety – a subtlety which unites the incarnate being with the divine source, little recognised in its essence, with a power capable of working true miracles.

The divine laws operate, regulating life in the smallest detail and with a power that is unmatched – no one can surpass it, only comply with its requirements. Human beings have difficulty grasping all its subtleties, which escape their understanding. They cannot imagine how their destinies have long been planned and mapped out, including their being led to follow in a spiritual way like ours, an approach that is decisive for the abhyasi in this incarnation. Doors open for them, and these are very significant ones; thus have their life paths been envisioned. Such an opportunity should be seized and, above all, not neglected. Time is running out here below; such a possibility cannot be ignored. It must be seized when it presents itself. Time is short and yet so very important for seekers. When such a path opens up before them, they can only commit themselves to the best of their ability, thus saving valuable time. We are listening to all; our work never fails and our blessings are unceasing. That is the way it is.
