Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, November 22, 2013 – 10:00 a.m.

Why shouldn't you express yourself in this collection and thus let your heart speak? All these years of contact and rigorous work have created very special ties between our hearts.

Most of our abhyasis follow us and appreciate these readings; others are missing out, as they are not ready for and open to this very special transmission. It is unfortunate for them, but what can we do about it? To reject these writings is to not have confidence in the living Master, possessor of sacred powers. Those who do so hinder their own evolution, but that is how it is. Time will open their eyes to this very important aspect of life.

Everything is done in our Mission for the benefit of beings who aspire to the Divine. Nothing is to be neglected in such a process, especially when the Masters are doing their level best to help and to expand the understanding of aspirants. Many of them fully appreciate this significant contribution. They are blessed and strengthened in their deep yearning to rise. All is well; that which emanates from the Masters is to be considered with respect. Blessed are those enlightened beings, fervent about what we offer them for their advancement.

Blessings to all.
