Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, December 6, 2013 – 10:00 a.m.

To develop love in each one – such is our goal. Whatever the negative charge may be on the human level, hope for a better world remains alive and our path contributes to it. Positive waves are spreading, and they are not useless – far from it. It is up to each one to understand this and act accordingly; there lies a valuable asset for the human race. The need to raise the level of consciousness characterises this world in which so many errors are committed.

Humanity is moving very slowly; the vibrations must rise and transform beings who have incarnated on Earth for good reasons. The divine laws are very subtle and not always easy to understand, but all that is accomplished helps to generate a better world. May all our abhyasis advance with fervour for the good of our Mission, but also and above all for themselves. That is the reality of our action.

Blessings to all.
