Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, January 21, 2014 — 10:00 a.m.

Your sufferings are so well hidden from the eyes of human beings, but not from ours. Despite these sufferings, your perseverance in serving us is carried by an extraordinary love, a love which manifests through all these writings emanating from our united hearts. Open and sensitive beings benefit abundantly from them, and the future will give these writings a place which you cannot imagine; that is how it goes. Nothing in such a realm is done without reason. The divine power manifests itself in its own manner for the good of all those who know how to seize the opportunity.

"Repetitions are useful, believe me. As they continue to punctuate your day quite naturally, they find their place on the material plane. Spiritual life also deserves constant attention; it has its priorities, which prevail of their own accord when they are called by an ardent heart. Progressing in this direction gives the best success. When a being is carried by grace, he attracts attention and adequate transmission. Happy are the hearts that are sensitive to our action; there are more and more of them, and this makes us happy.

"A perfect world is not for tomorrow. Contributing to this transformation is essential. Everything happens very slowly on Earth according to the vibrations of this world; they are very specific and must be considered. Human beings know so little about the complexity of creation; the era of true knowledge is dawning very slowly. Many mistakes and miscalculations will continue to mislead seekers, as they often follow a false course. A day will come when light will allow itself to peep through this world of darkness. Let us all work together towards the raising of consciousness, which is the goal of our relentless action. May all be carried and enlightened."
