Whispers from The Brighter World

Fervent hearts will see the light; faithful abhyasis who are sincerely committed to this way are fed by their Master's comments, his teachings and these messages — which he himself recommends, in his great wisdom. All these writings are the result of the will and action of the entire hierarchy. Each of us contributes to them; in one way or another we do express ourselves through them. Masters of the past and present are as one: theirs is a unity greatly wished for by the higher powers.

"It has been said time and time again that everything has its raison d'être. The Mission is a whole, each of its aspects being very important. It is not always easy, at the human level, to comprehend the need to attend to all of them. All that is offered in our way is meant for the good of our aspirants. It is not easy in this very troubled and disturbed world to stand back and work on one's own evolution. The clock is ticking for every incarnate being; sooner or later they will change planes of consciousness and will have to adapt to their corresponding level.

"Advancing in a spiritual way with the help of a living Master is a rare opportunity. Not everyone has that privilege — far from it. Are our aspirants truly aware of this? The incarnate Master facilitates the ascent of souls towards their highest destiny; this is not commonplace and must be emphasised. Our abhyasis have this privilege at the present time, when our way is being recognised in the world for the good of each one and of all those who follow us with confidence and true commitment. Blessings."
