Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, February 6, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

Do not worry about this kind of talk; here we know what you say and do, and that is the most important thing. The Masters themselves are not spared from such interpretations, which also happen to be false. That is the way humans are; some understand things in their own way and make up their own story as they would like it to be. Such is life, and we will not change it to suit ourselves.

Spiritual work takes place slowly and at several levels of consciousness. We cannot transform beings as quickly as we would like. Humans must adapt to the shifting movement of life – to its trials, to everything it has in store – without generally being able to modify things according to their wishes. Some project themselves into stories that allow them to dream and help them overcome hardships they experience. All scenarios are possible, as humans do not lack imagination – this is a characteristic of theirs.

We prefer to focus on the positive, so as to better act in the right direction and only see what is beautiful in each one. All of us here are working in the hope that one day the world will awaken to higher consciousness and become the Eden we would like it to be. Living daily life while doing one's best is very commendable. Following a spiritual path indicates an aspiration to the Divine, which we are trying to make productive. To a certain extent we are achieving this, without great fanfare or apparent miracles. Nevertheless our abhyasis are advancing with our constant support, and that is the most important thing.
