Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, February 22, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

Our abhyasis have made the right choice. Some are more motivated than others – we cannot force anything, only ensure the accomplishment of what must be. There is a time for everything; letting one's heart open up to the sublime presence indicates in the seeker the fulfilment of a quest that began a long time ago. From one lifetime to the next, assets are accumulated, and some are valuable at this level where nothing is ever lost. It takes time to be led to a correct perception of things; it is up to each one to choose the fruits suitable for their spiritual nourishment, one that justifies a life with its trials and diverse lessons. It is not easy to acquire wisdom. It takes a long time to understand and look in the right direction, one that avoids the loss of precious time.

How to sufficiently motivate our brothers and sisters, when it is so easy to get caught up in life, with all its illusory and artificial aspects? Lost time is never regained; we insist, but how to truly motivate all our abhyasis? Each one advances at his or her own pace. We accompany this development, and this can generate the best. When the time comes to take stock, the results will be satisfactory, and they will become more and more so. Our way is in full expansion. Its progression has thus been planned, and the day will come when it spreads throughout the world. Such are the divine plans, and they cannot be circumvented; so has it been since time immemorial. We can only support and assist this Mission in all the aspects that characterise it. Every action bears fruit, which one day will be recognised, oh so widely. Everything happens at the appropriate time, when grace manifests for good reasons. This is how it is.

Blessings to all.
