Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, February 23, 2014 — 10:00 a.m.

Be at peace; transcend disturbances of this kind. They are only the inevitable steps that occur in any human organisation. What matters is the goal, the motivation to achieve it and the hope that results from a spiritual approach that is sincerely followed and deeply felt. An undertaking of this kind is not trivial. It opens a subtle way that is capable of producing the best outcomes. Are our abhyasis truly aware of it! Throughout the course of the day, they cannot truly see the full reality, but the results are there. Doors are opening up; so many aspects need to be considered in such an approach. Human evolution takes place globally, and guiding lights are put in place to gradually change the ambient vibration. Imperceptible to humans, this vibration produces its effect and promotes one's aspiration to the Divine, according to the needs felt by the abhyasi. Not everyone finds it easy to identify their real needs, but gradually they feel they are guided and strengthened in their journey. The subtle being knows where it is going, what it deeply aspires to. Surrender, which is often evoked in our way, is of great importance, as human resistances go against the true aspirations of the soul. One might ask how to reconcile material and spiritual life. Motivated aspirants find the solution and manage to blossom in their quest for the Divine by harmonising the different aspects of their lives. Nothing is simple, but where would the joy of success lie if such were not the case? The spiritual Master works unfailingly, and we support him in his difficult task. All is for the best in the service of souls that are following the luminous and blessed path of victorious love. It is up to each one to eagerly follow it."
