Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, March 26, 2014 — 10:00 a.m.

It seems that everything has been said, and yet so many questions arise as the days go by. All our abhyasis are faced with daily difficulties that must be overcome as best as possible, and resolved wherever necessary. Life is never easy. If it were, where would the challenge lie? Trials and problems of all kinds help humans develop themselves and can allow their best aspects to emerge. Nothing is useless, and the positive side should be considered in everything. Thus from life to life humans can achieve what is needed for their personal evolution.

"Following a spiritual way allows one to assess both oneself and the meaning of life in general. Numerous incarnations are necessary for all. They allow each person to seek and access knowledge in order to achieve the best. Sahaj Marg contributes to this; we can witness beings changing and going where they never imagined, all for their highest good. This very special asset is unique and holds the best for each of our brothers and sisters. All are exposed to the same problems, regardless of their material situation; nothing is simple in this world. Facing up to things from day to day as best one can — with the deep conviction that this life is but a step, an opportunity to grow and understand the purpose of things — opens up broad prospects. Sahaj Marg gives a deeper meaning to this inner call. When it manifests itself fully, the aspirant, over time, sees life differently. At the subtle level, the body is gradually transformed, even if one is not aware of it. We are working accordingly so that the best in everyone can be revealed, generating this heavenly song whose beauty we can perceive — this makes us happy. All are helped under our blessings."
