Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, March 28, 2014 — 10:00 a.m.

This long journey of messages has generated the best results. Many hearts are receptive and nourished by their vibration. To be precise, all is vibration on this Earth; this is not easy to accept, but it is so. Humans still have so much to discover; there are more surprises to come. Future times will reveal many aspects of this world that are still unknown today. People have made good progress since the days when they thought the world was flat, but there is still a great deal to discover. This comment may be surprising, but such are the mysteries of life — unfathomable.

"A spiritual approach refines the human being and thus contributes to evolution overall. Nothing is futile when it is desired by the higher powers. There is so much to do on this Earth in order for a planned change to gradually spread through the whole of humanity. Our abhyasis are progressing; they are not saints, but they are opening up to higher reality and this approach is beneficial to the entire community. Future times will lead the human being to a broader understanding of phenomena. Everything will be different, and today's world will seem very distant and limited in terms of its essential aspects. Given the pace of the world, its evolution as a whole occurs very slowly. A century from now, everything will be different; humans will have to revert to more correct values and adopt a more balanced life at all levels. It is essential for humans to grow in knowledge, a true knowledge which determines their evolution towards attaining the highest level of consciousness. Nothing is impossible to divine powers; it is up to all to prepare for this attainment."
