My Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, March 30, 2014 — 10:00 a.m.

You have always done your best. Love carries you and allows you to give every last ounce of your strength in order to meet our expectations. Our relationship is out of the ordinary and these messages have reflected that for a long time now. We don't give them in order for some to remain unknown to our abhyasis; these brothers and sisters are not children. We must repeat: we are eager for the release of these messages. May our action be respected as it should be. If not, why continue? These writings, in addition to all that already exist, will remain characteristic of this very rich and effective spiritual way. Thus our action occurs at all levels, which is not an ordinary matter.

"Everything seems so simple in this approach and yet it bears much fruit, thus preparing for a planned evolution that corresponds to future times. Everything will change and the world will have to adapt to those circumstances; preparing humans for these upcoming changes remains a priority. Today, right now, we are acting as is proper so that this entire Sahaj Marg Mission may better prepare all our brothers and sisters who are committed in this process and aware of the transformation that is happening within themselves. Everything takes place slowly, but with exemplary precision. So many hearts are committed and saving valuable time in the ongoing evolutionary cycle that operates for the good of humanity. It takes time and effort for the best to be accomplished. One day the divine goal will be achieved and the soul, transported by unparalleled joy, will eventually taste the delights of bliss. This is how it goes."

Babuji Maharaj