Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, April 17, 2014 — 10:00 a.m.

Transcend all these considerations. Human beings voluntarily limit themselves to their ignorance; so has it been since the dawn of time. This is unfortunate, but what can we do about it? In our Mission we try to be clear with our abhyasis; they are adults and can understand that laws evolve while adapting to the needs of this world. Why should we now reproduce patterns of a bygone era? Our Mission has nothing to hide — this aspect is very important. We do not want to tell great stories merely to satisfy our aspirants. Our action is real and effective. Though it cannot be measured, it exists, and it yields the best results, believe me. The aspirant must progress and adapt to the realities of life in all its expressions. Many changes will come about, and then it will be necessary to face them.

"Since the dawn of time, events that are impossible to describe here have occurred, leading to very significant changes at all levels. We are not there yet; discussing the future will not change the current situation. From time immemorial, the human being has always adapted by force of circumstance, and this will not change. Doesn't everything have its raison d'être! Many of our readers are waiting for the inside story. Let us for the time being stick to the subject; everything will be done in due time. May all remain serene and blessed, in accordance with their own aspirations."
