Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, April 30, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

Times are changing, and the Mission is heading towards a new milestone; it will increasingly take its place in this world, as long planned. Everything here is done for the good of our abhyasis. They are advancing imperceptibly, carried by a vibration specific to their spiritual elevation. The time has come when each one's progress must take on a new meaning. Everything is done to achieve the best at this level; all our brothers and sisters have a potential, and it is up to them to make the most of it. They have all the necessary elements, and our blessings strengthen them day by day.

Many things need to change here below; the future will confirm these words by bringing transformations unprecedented in the current era. We are preparing minds for this. All should rest assured that the best will emerge from the many events to come. This is not for tomorrow; everything comes at the appropriate time, when necessary. Major upheavals have already occurred on this Earth, and have been occurring since the dawn of time.

Our abhyasis express their need to know; we cannot say everything, but why shouldn't we say what can be said! Nothing here below is unalterable; an incarnation on this Earth is but a breath in each person's journey. What is acquired now adds to the assets already accumulated over time. May all our brothers and sisters realise the opportunity that is given them to progress. Time is precious, and it is up to each one to really become aware of it and to act for the good in all respects. On these days of celebration, the best is being accomplished for all.

Special blessings.
