Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, May 21, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

Each of these messages is like a link in a chain vibrationally connecting the worlds. These notions seem abstract here below, where human convictions are deeply rooted. We can only let time do its work. It will deliver the desired knowledge at the opportune moment. Evolution happens very slowly here below, at the pace of the pulsations regulating life on this terrestrial globe. Yes, the Earth turns, and doubts about this are fortunately a thing of the past. The Earth has its own characteristics and is perfectly integrated in the system. It is not easy to be incarnate on Earth, but this fact cannot be avoided; there lies the movement of life in one of its major aspects.

Following a spiritual way denotes a definite call; it shows a real aspiration to rise and to understand the true meaning and uniqueness of what an incarnation represents on this level. What would an incarnation be without this profound call justifying the innumerable trials that it holds in store. No one escapes this essential principle. Understanding it and acting accordingly, for the best, saves precious time. Each incarnation brings many experiences, and all opportunities are to be seized – especially here below, where time is precious. Surrendering to the Divine brings rich experiences; they are the heavenly weft in which the Divine intervenes for the good of all. This is how it is!
