My Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, June 12, 2014 — 10:00 a.m.

Come and rejuvenate yourself in this sacred space where the best is developed. These very special rendezvous have not been given in vain; what they have generated, and will continue to generate, has a sacred quality. Time will emphasise this aspect which has not yet been properly assessed. It is not always easy to understand our motivation, but what must be, will be. In the future, our Mission will integrate some highly advanced principles. Although they are being alluded to very discreetly, they will crown this sacred edifice where what is best for humans will increasingly manifest.

"An unprecedented change is coming, and it will lead to a significant dimension where spirituality will become more evident to everyone than it is today. It is rewarding to contribute to this planned elevation of humanity. One day, truth will become obvious to all beings who are sensitive to its manifestation. Everything happens slowly on this Earth; such is not our pace, but we have to make do with it for the common good. Let's continue to work, to help our brothers and sisters in our own manner; it may not be theirs, but its results are more than visible over time. May love, this very subtle energy, spread across this Earth and preserve what is essential for human evolution. May all our brothers and sisters be even more motivated and become the strong links of these planned changes, under our constant blessings."

Babuji Maharaj