Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, June 15, 2014 — 10:00 a.m.

Regain serenity in this sacred place where the best is achieved. Here, our energies take over, as surrender generates this state that is conducive to receiving these messages. Thus every day this ritual is renewed in which love is the most important element; it attracts and promotes our action. These numerous writings constitute a true asset for our Mission, and time will enhance their effects on fervent hearts. The future will lift the barriers of egoism that have no reason to exist in this system. The human being is not always easy to handle, but this is how it is. Seeing only the good and the beautiful lifts the soul up beyond materiality and shadowy areas, leading to a state of increased receptivity and serenity. Following a spiritual way helps one understand why trials exist and why they must be accepted. One who is committed to this process thus becomes more accepting. Nothing is ever simple. True wisdom is built on experiences of all kinds and generates the detachment necessary for a true approach — one that elevates and enhances the soul. Devoting the necessary space to such a work is not always easy in a busy life; achieving it is evidence of one's willingness and a real need to move forward. When the soul has a need, nothing can stop it; sooner or later the elements necessary to satisfy it will fall into place. A sincere appeal is always heard — how could it be otherwise?

"All is in vain here below, but it is not so for a path such as this. Destiny exists, and it knows where it is going, which is something not fully realised by human beings, who believe they manage everything as they see fit. Sooner or later the divine plans unfold, and the human being follows his or her path; this is how it is, shall we say. When one follows a spiritual way, all hopes are permitted."
