Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, June 22, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

These messages are appreciated more and more. Sensitive souls benefit from their very special vibration, and the texts are not trivial either; they constitute an uncommon teaching. The spiritual being yearns for a kind of knowledge that reveals the subtleties of the soul. Here we can evaluate the impact of our way, where everything is done to facilitate the progress of each of our abhyasis.

Our Mission is a whole made up of multiple nuances but guided as it should be by the incarnate Master and the powerful forces that carry him at this level. He is the divine vector, effective beyond measure, who disseminates the fruit of our action across the world. Our abhyasis venerate him, and he well deserves it. Thus is accomplished what must be, according to divine will. Here, all forces support each other at this level where love and purity act for the good of humanity. Humanity is suffering from a thousand evils; in a certain way this fact is terrifying. How can all this unremitting violence be averted? This is the constant concern of the Hierarchy.

May each of our abhyasis be committed in their own way to doing their best for their personal progress, and also for the good of this world, by having positive thoughts full of love for the entire Mission and well beyond – that is to say, the whole of creation. A perfect world is not for tomorrow, but we are working towards it. One day, the divine purpose will be achieved – There lies the most just and commendable objective there is.

Our unceasing blessings.
