Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, June 29, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

Fear nothing, my dear daughter, the day will come when all these messages will be known in their entirety; what is essential is there, that is what matters. Here nothing is said which cannot be understood; our abhyasis are open-minded adults willingly involved in this way. Their personal commitment is important, since we cannot but respond to a genuine call coming from the hearts of our brothers and sisters.

This large family is not ordinary; it includes many differences in many respects, but the base, what is essential, is the same. All are united spiritually and are moving forward, imbued with this special energy so discreet that it embellishes people's hearts in utmost secrecy. We are well placed to assess the effects of everything being done at all levels, furthering the expansion of this way throughout the world. Much good comes from it. Sahaj Marg contributes to the elevation of beings who devote themselves to it appropriately.

Following one's practice well, taking advantage of the various teachings offered throughout the Mission, produces the best results. It is up to each one to act, to feel within themselves what unfolds day by day, offered to them in this troubled world that is more disoriented than ever before. To have a guide, a Master, whose action is discreet and efficient, is this not a major asset? May the greatest number realise this and fully benefit from it.

Babuji