Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, July 20, 2014 — 10:00 a.m.

All these beautiful testimonies emanating from our brothers and sisters confirm for you, once again, that these messages have a growing impact. They are not given in vain. Repetitions are necessary; they are the very essence of life in that which is constructive and important. The Mission is expanding, and our abhyasis will increasingly need to refer to texts like these — ones that strengthen them in their approach of granting the appropriate place to this aspect of their lives. Isn't this the essential thing! Here below, everything passes by and is forgotten so quickly, whereas spirituality ultimately remains the most important asset, no matter what human beings may think. Managing to reach the goal, to achieve serenity: that is the safe haven when everything around you is overwhelming for diverse reasons, which are not lacking. Only spirituality will save the world, as that wise man has said. He was right, and his comments are even more justified now, as the world is in a state of distress.

"Following a spiritual way does not solve everything; each person has his own destiny, but such an approach opens up prospects and allows one to better position oneself in relation to life's difficulties. Practice helps one face up to things, to understand why things are the way they are. Sahaj Marg is active, much more so than many of our aspirants suppose; 'miracles' happen quietly behind the scenes. This work is productive — sincere commitment and perseverance bear fruit that is quite delectable.

"May all set their sights on a very positive outlook and increase their efforts, trust and love for their Master — the elected guide, blessed by the gods. He too is following his own path, although it is not an easy one. Blessings to all."
