Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, July 24, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

The path of Sahaj Marg opens up broad prospects, much more than is apparent. Without great fanfare, without apparent pomp, the work is done at a very subtle and effective level. Truly committing oneself opens up possibilities that reveal themselves over time. A spiritual path is not simple, in the sense that it must be won over by a certain commitment. Love, sincerity and surrender are the fundamentals of this journey. It continues through time, which is a human being's surest ally, capable of producing the best results.

All these words repeated over time are meant to nourish hearts; many of our brothers and sisters appreciate them and are strengthened by this teaching. It is out of the ordinary, coming directly from the Source – the Source that cannot dry up, being so very powerful, and willed as such for the good of this Mission. Time will reveal the full importance and profound significance of the Mission's existence on this Earth. Future times are being prepared. These writings are an expression of it, and the way of Sahaj Marg will matter more and more in this divine plan. Doesn't everything have its raison d'être!

The world is at a turning point in its history. The path of evolution is the best possible option, the best choice in an era so tormented that human beings are losing their sense of what is right and what is wrong. A spiritual path such as this allows one to better find one's place and understand life under its best aspects. In this, only the positive side is to be considered; our abhyasis gain precious time, and this warrants some effort. They will not regret it – the future will show them the accuracy of these words.

May they all be blessed!
