Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday August 1, 2014 — 10:00 a.m.

After all these years of contact resulting in these messages, how many times have we reverted to the same topics? Repetitions are an integral part of life; without them what would this world be? Everything is constantly recurring here below — and beyond — to ensure the continuity of the divine movement in its creative principle.

"The way of the heart is very promising; the heart aspect is emphasised in our way for good reason, as it is there that the spiritual work is being done in a special manner. This work is not commonplace; it offers unique possibilities. Hindsight will allow a favourable assessment of it. Is the 'spirit' of the Mission truly understood? Time will bring it acclaim. It is already distinguishing itself in a very positive manner; on the scale of time, it stands out from banality. What must be will be: Sahaj Marg is clearing a majestic path to infinity, heralding future times when substantial changes will take place for the good of humanity. This way will take on a new face, another reality — one that is very positive with respect to human evolution. Many aspects of this world will need to be reconsidered. In due time, everything will fall into place for the greater good of the entire created world. Promoting the spiritual evolution of our brothers and sisters contributes to the grand plans for this world and what it will become by divine grace.

"May all consider this essential aspect of life, beyond the multiple annoyances generated by an inescapable materiality that exists today and that will continue to exist for a long time to come. Participating in this evolution is encouraging. One day, the divine goal will be attained; we are all working towards it in our own manner. May all be motivated in their practice under our special blessings."
