Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, August 2, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

The heavenly voice resonates in your heart – what wouldn't it like to say! Limits are there; this world has its laws, and they cannot be circumvented in this evolutionary cycle of humanity, whose progress is pre-planned. The time has not yet come to go beyond what currently exists. To grow spiritually is what matters most, and there lies the absolute necessity to go further in one's knowledge. Reaching a certain stage in that respect will allow a deeper approach to the divine laws. Gradually, everything is falling into place for the coming changes; the current slowness cannot be overcome, as it is the very principle of the present cycle that is preparing for what will prevail here below. From time immemorial, this world has gone through similar upheavals, about which the most learned on the subject have no idea, and for good reason.

Planet Earth is not the most evolved – far from it – contrary to preconceived ideas reflected in the current thinking among the most erudite. Never mind. What really matters for the good of humanity is its spiritual elevation, towards which we are working as best as possible for the good of all. Committing to such a path demonstrates a definite aspiration for the Divine, for the positive outcome that such an approach can generate. In simplicity and silence, this outstanding work gradually comes to fruition. It is not easy to understand it, to evaluate what it produces in each one; human nature remains a factor and must, in certain circumstances, recede and give way to the expansion of the soul. Will all these comments be understood? Each one, in his or her measure, advances and finds a way through the meanders of the being's reality, accessible to fervent hearts that are open to this infinite prospect. May the best be accomplished for all. One day the divine goal will be achieved. So it is!
