Whispers from The Brighter World

Advancing with confidence and serenity against all odds in this path of love is a blessing, a real strength for those who possess it. In truth, it is in everyone, and it is enough to act accordingly for it to be revealed; thus a great step is taken on a journey that escapes all human reasoning. Being limited in their vision of things, human beings often live riveted to their habits and their usual way of thinking. Blessed are those who go past this stage and seek beyond the material plane that which characterises their true nature and its achievements. Finding within oneself certain tendencies – a deep yearning to love, and to look beyond everyday life for the justifications of an incarnation in the world of humans – facilitates this quest for the Divine that is so strong in our abhyasis that they end up engaging in a real process. They do not do so in vain; whatever they may think, through this process they all acquire what the subtle being who inspires them over the course of the days aspires to. It is not always easy to stick to this attitude; life on this Earth has many attractions which are sometimes difficult to resist. When it is time to take stock, a more accurate vision of things takes shape; it is never too late to amend that which needs amending and to some extent make up for lost time.

Love saves one from everything if one remains totally offered to this divine power represented by a spiritual Master, appointed and supported by a committed Hierarchy. This is a praiseworthy act that yields the best possible results. May each of our brothers and sisters develop their potential in this area and be fully committed to this sublime quest for the Divine. They will not regret it.

May they all be blessed.
