My Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, August 14, 2014 — 10:00 a.m.

These messages are pearls whose beauty will be brought to light over time. They are revealed to fervent hearts who have understood all that characterises them beyond words, in the subtlety of the spirit. This kind of energy can be felt with the heart. This heart — the undisputed master of the physical body — does not reveal all its treasures to the eyes of human beings. Mystics are beginning to discover in this organ much more than the receptacle of life, namely, possibilities that are not yet revealed in current times. The human being is truly mysterious beyond his envelope of flesh; many aspects will be discovered in the future, well beyond current perceptions.

"In a sense, following a spiritual path opens the door to knowledge. A day will come when many things will be added to that which is already known, and these elements will open up very important opportunities. We are not there yet. Progressing along this path prepares a person for what this changing humanity will become. Many changes will occur, leading humans to a collective state of consciousness that is inevitable. The truth will be revealed little by little and accepted and respected as it should be for the good of all. These times will come, you can be sure; we are preparing them, and some of you will benefit from them. The long chain of reincarnations will allow everyone to live in a refined environment that carries the benefits of knowledge. Let us prepare these future times — they are desired by many human beings who are aspiring to true knowledge. Blessings to all."

Babuji Maharaj