Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, August 19, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

All these messages will continue making their way in hearts; time will give them importance, as they constitute a very precious asset for our Mission. Accessible to all, using current means of dissemination, they help a great number of our abhyasis. Nothing should be neglected; this spiritual path offers uncommon opportunities to all who embark on this journey – a special one in these troubled times, where such an approach connects abhyasis to a reality unknown to most human beings.

To invest oneself in following these messages is a calling; neglecting it for whatever reason is a great pity, and we regret it. May some fervent hearts truly commit themselves to this action and give it all the attention it deserves. This is no trivial activity; blessed are those who treat it with the respect and commitment it deserves. Punctuality is a must, as has been demonstrated through the years by the writing down of these messages. We expect the same regularity for the follow-up steps. Perseverance is essential in everything; in this very hectic and complex world, it is the foundation of every action worthy of a true spiritual approach, one that connects the subtle being to the very essence of this life, in what is eternal and decisive for each and every human being. Our aspirants have taken this step, and they are making progress, each in his or her own manner – invested to a greater or lesser degree, but having made this commitment, one that is so important to each of them. Here they gain precious time; a life is short compared to eternity. It is up to each of them to realise it and seize such an opportunity.

Blessings to all.
