Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, August 22, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

Soul bonds are invaluable and re-emerge from life to life, as necessary and for good reasons. All this complexity is beyond human comprehension. How to grasp all its subtlety! This world of illusion is confusing even for the most refined of beings. Following a spiritual path can shed new light on certain phenomena.

To advance, serene and surrendered to the divine power, is wise and provides a great strength in the face of adversity. It really takes some courage to overcome the many problems it has in store; only surrender can truly help and strengthen the human being. Emerging stronger from a trial opens up new horizons and helps one put other aspects of life into perspective. Each incarnation brings an experience; to have grown from it is a precious asset.

As it is said, blessed are the pure in heart, they shall see the light. Hope is a valuable strength, more fruitful than it may seem. Nothing is simple, ever; a spiritual guide is necessary where complexity goes beyond comprehension. He does not solve everything in the manner aspirants would wish – he does better than that. His work goes well beyond the material plane and creates something that will endure beyond this illusory world. Fervour and surrender are the key words – we cannot say it enough. It is not easy to accept this and to live it every day, and yet the key lies there, guiding the soul towards the ultimate goal.

Blessings to all.
