Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, August 28, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

Be at peace; overcome these human disturbances and your own torments. We are by your side on this painful journey of yours. Although this aspect is hidden from the eyes of humans, we are well aware of it; isn't that the most important thing! It is all the more commendable that every day you carry out this journey of messages, in which you give not only energy but also so much love. For you, this is the most important aspect. Do not be embarrassed by what we are saying – our abhyasis have the right to know. You were not chosen in vain; the many mediums who claim that role within our Mission do not necessarily have the same profile. This work is not trivial; it goes well beyond mediumship . These comments will one day take on their full meaning. You will not be forgotten, you can be sure. Wishing to remain in the shadows is perhaps the best way to appear in full light, and for good reasons that the future will reveal.

Everything in its time. These writings help so many of our brothers and sisters. Certain beings benefit from them more than others who are less open to their power of action. Each and every one advances at their own pace and follows their own trajectory. So many beautiful souls are sensitive to the messages and thus benefit from an extraordinary transmission. The value in reading them is doubled here by a precious asset, confirming the value of a practice carried by a Master of the very highest calibre – one who is equipped with multiple powers whose range of action our abhyasis cannot imagine. It does take time in this world for the importance of things to become clearer, as happens when the divine power provides for it.

Particular blessings to all.
