Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, September 3, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

This long pathway of messages will leave our abhyasis with numerous landmarks. It is sometimes necessary to take stock of one's life and act accordingly to bring the best to it. Certain events or stages along this journey are decisive, allowing one to understand and make decisions – especially concerning personal evolution, called for from the depths of one's being, even if this aspect has been neglected in the past. What matters is to pass that milestone and make the right decisions regarding this very special journey capable of changing a life.

There is no time to lose; it is precious, you can be sure. The divine laws are impressively rigorous for common mortals. Human beings are so small in the face of that power. They believe they direct their lives, but their karma catches up with them and often imposes what they did not believe possible. Both the best and the worst come under these principles, hence the need once again to surrender to this supreme force. Rebelling against it leads to no good, you can be sure. Who does not one day find themselves confronted with its inescapable rules. Reaching the stage of victorious love coming to tinge everything, every event, with its prodigious halo when dedicated to the Divine.... Life holds many surprises; certain events occur that are capable of changing a life, when a door opens upon this higher reality, the one that guides our lives for the best in each of us.

Blessings to all.
