Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, September 24, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

What a beautiful path is travelled along this way of the heart, so compelling and rewarding over time. It is richer in effects than it seems; the future will confirm these words. It takes a lot of time on Earth for good to prevail. The reign of illusion here below often intermingles with evil. It requires vigilance; clearing one's path and finding one's way – the one that delights the soul – is not easy amidst a perpetual and sometimes confusing instability.

The simple approach of Sahaj Marg conceals the reality of its action in hearts. This spiritual path is not given in vain; it is active and frees hearts of unnecessary samskaras. Following it according to the rules that define it leads to convincing results. We are insisting, but it is necessary – human beings need constant repetition in order to shape themselves, especially in this area where the facts are not always evident. Perseverance and surrender are recommended here; one day, the divine goal will be attained and our fervent abhyasis will be able to assess the effects of this commitment. We do not promise the moon, but this path is truly worth following – it holds many surprises in this field which are of particular value, you can be sure. May all our brothers and sisters be convinced of this and move forward eagerly.
