Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, July 29, 1999 – 10:00 a.m.

Relax, otherwise we will not be able to communicate. Arrangements will be found to provide assistance for you.

You are appreciated by a certain number of people who will not leave you in difficulty. Take heart, my daughter, whatever may happen, life will continue. The Earth will not stop turning for all that.

What else can we tell you? We are not the Masters of the world. We act on many planes and in a certain number of situations, but we cannot resolve everything.

No Master has absolute power, even if some have very extended powers. In the last resort, it is God who decides.

May the sun continue to shine in your heart; drive out this anguish, which is not usual in you.

You have never lacked grace. Be positive in spite of everything. Let us together continue our work with this great joy prevailing in our communications.

Achieve your mission, with all your heart, while surmounting the states of tiredness it generates in you. It is very enviable in many respects.

Be like an active bee, which gathers its divine nectar.

One day, these messages will be taken into account and appreciated at their true worth.
