Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, October 1, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

Life on Earth is a constant struggle. All existing kingdoms are subject to the same laws – laws of life, death, a struggle in the face of this existence to survive the multiple hazards it holds. Reaching a stage where the human being aspires to follow a spiritual path denotes a certain maturity; the thirsting soul urges one to act in this direction. In this long trail of reincarnations, so many experiences have been lived; to reject this principle of reincarnation is a weakness that is damaging, as it is an essential aspect in this area.

From life to life a story unfolds; all these lives are connected to one another by a strong thread – decisive in this long journey, wherein so many experiences are lived and meant to lead the being to a stage of spiritual elevation in keeping with the divine purposes. All our aspirants are following this path for good reasons; they are all confronted with problems inherent in an incarnation – it cannot be otherwise. Following such a process enables one to step back from the vagaries of life here below. Strengthening oneself in the face of trials, accepting whatever may happen, is not easy. Following a spiritual path gives a person strength. This strength does not necessarily work miracles, but it clears the way with the wisdom and open-mindedness it provides. We wish we could make life easy for everyone, but this cannot be, in this era of transition where all existing values are to be reconsidered. May all our aspirants rest assured: they are protected and they will be welcomed, when the day comes, as they should be. We wish the best to all, under our blessings.
