Whispers from The Brighter World

This rather special image should not be ignored. It is not the first portrayal in history of a figure representing a spiritual path. Doesn't everything have its purpose!

Perhaps it is time to consider this image as one should. Montpellier has more than one distinguishing feature. The future will bring these characteristics to light; this is how it goes, shall we say.

"Special blessings on this day that brings you joy with this visit that is rare and precious to your heart."
